

Lexington Art Bike Contest

Reduce • Reuse • Recycle • Ride!

Find your self an old bike, or some bike parts and get creative! Or, get your current bike and spruce it up with some paint, needlework, or recycled materials. The possibilities are endless for turning bikes into art (just do a web search and see). And no one said your creation has to be rideable when you are finished - it can be something made from bike parts.

WHO - Any interested member of the public is invited to create! Simple, or complex creations are both welcome.

WHAT - An art display, celebration of cycling, and contest all wrapped up in one.

WHERE - Buckman Park, at the corner of Hancock St. & Massachusetts Ave. in Lexington MA

WHEN - The event happens Saturday, May 14, 2016 from 10-4pm.

WHY - This project is happening in conjunction with Arts Offroad, sponsored by the Lexington Council for the Arts, and with Bike-Walk-N-Bus Week, sponsored by the Friends of Lexington Bikeways.

HOW - If you are interested in participating please contact the Lexington Council for the Arts as soon as possible for planning purposes, but late arrivals welcome!

Lexington Council for the Arts: artscouncil@lexingtonma.gov
[blog.artsl Lexington.org/](http://blog.artsl Lexington.org/)

Get ready for
Bike-Walk-Bus
Week!