Simond's Brook

78 acres, 1.6 miles of trails. The northern section of Simond's Brook provides trails through an open pine-oak forest criss-crossed by stone walls. The southern section features wetlands and Simond's Brook, which provide excellent wildlife habitat, particularly in connection with Paint Mine conservation area to the east. The utility power line easement cuts through the center of the area, but the trail through it, from Grove Street to the Boston Sports Club, is only periodically passable.

Access is from Grove Street near the power line easement and by a narrow trail off of Grove Street across from Gould Road. Connect to Paint Mine via the utility power line easement.
